Dire: A David Wolf Thriller (David Wolf Mystery Thriller Series Book 8)

Synopsis

When a man careens off the road into the frigid waters of the Chautauqua River, Chief Detective David Wolf risks his own life to bring the man to shore. News of Wolf's bravery travels fast through the burgeoning ski town of Rocky Points, Colorado, and before long he's pulled into the political grinder, where candidates are eager to exploit Wolf's character for their own gain. Injured as well in the process, it seems his heroic deed was some cruel twist of fate, that is, until he meets Lauren Coulter, a new girl in town and a nurse at the local hospital. Lauren is smart, beautiful, and just Wolf's type. The connection between them is there. But just as they get started, so does the killing. And as bodies start emerging, so do the secrets from Lauren's troubled past. Has fate steered Wolf to the wrong woman? Or is someone more devious behind the wheel? Lives will depend on how fast Wolf can come up with the answer, and this time, living with failure will prove to be something much worse than death. This is the 8th installment of the popular David Wolf mystery series, which are chock full of mystery, suspense, and thrills. The entire series in order is as follows: Gut Decision (David Wolf mystery-thriller short story) Foreign Deceit (David Wolf Book 1) The Silversmith (David Wolf Book 2) Alive and Killing (David Wolf Book 3) Deadly Conditions (David Wolf Book 4) Cold Lake (David Wolf Book 5) Smoked Out (David Wolf Book 6) To the Bone (David Wolf Book 7) Dire (David Wolf Book 8) You can keep up to date with Jeff Carson and his mystery-thriller projects, including a new series starter due out this summer, by visiting his blog at <http://jeffcarson.co>. Another great read by Carson. Spoiler alert. This one starts with Chief Detective David Wolf and Detective Sgt. Barker heading home after attending a law enforcement meeting. As they drive Dave spots where a vehicle went over the cliff and is now upside down in the water below. Of course Dave immediately heads down to see if anyone is alive. Sgt. Barker isn't as anxious to help. Dave does save one man and yells at Barker to call for back up and EMS. Barker does so. One man is saved the other, the passenger, is already dead. Wolf sprains his ankle badly on the way down so he knows he's going to have to have it looked at. He's also wondering about Barker's actions. Barker is a man Dave doesn't trust. Barker is a man who was elevated into his position as Sgt. by Sheriff MacLean. Seems vote getting is more important than having someone who is actually qualified to do the job. Wolf knows this but there isn't much he can do about it. But you can bet he keeps his eye on Barker because he has the feeling Barker has his own agenda. How right he turns out to be. On arrival at the Sheriff's office Dave finds the Sheriff is very pleased with the rescue as this puts his Department in a very good light. He's already thinking of the election which is twenty two months away. He has competition in a man named Adam Jackson. Jackson was a former Chief of Police from Aspen. He's a smooth talker with an even smoother appearance. A real political powerhouse who had many high up friends in governments across the nation. He likes to present himself as a humble man who liked to mingle with people. He's a man that has MacLean very worried. Dave doesn't give a st. He just wants to do his job and politics bore the hell out of him.
