A Wild Fright In Deadwood (Deadwood Humorous Mystery Book 7)

Synopsis

Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned ... especially a dead one holding a grudge. Back on Deadwood's list of Usual Suspects, Violet Parker is hip deep in wild frights and fired-up females. After juggling bitter threats, haunted buildings, and vengeful ghosts, the last thing she needs is a pair of bullheaded detectives trying to pin another murder on her tail. Can Violet find the real killer before she ends up behind bars? Or worse, on a slab at the morgue.

Customer Reviews

Seriously folks, do not eat or drink anything while reading this book. I almost died twice because of this. The funny parts just kind of sneak up on you. The Deadwood crew are back and are just as funny and entertaining as ever. The situations poor Violet finds herself in many times are hilarious as well as heart poundingly frightening. This book has an excellent mix of mystery, action, steam and wit as with all of the others in this series. If ever asked, I don't think I could pick a favorite part because there are so many. I mean any time Cornelius is on the scene, when Violet and Cooper (or even Hawke) are at each other's throat, when old man Harvey just opens his mouth to speak, all of these are parts are entertaining and often hilarious. And let's not forget the sizzling chemistry between Violet and Doc. Many questions were answered, but many more have come to light. Ann Charles states at the end of this book that this series will run for quite some time and I cannot begin to explain how happy this makes me. Well done Ms. Charles! I will be anxiously awaiting the next book!

Once again, Ann Charles has blown me away. Love is such an inadequate word to describe this series. Violet, Doc, and the gang are back and up to their eyeballs in spooky stuff. I can't get enough of it!

Once again Ann takes us on a wild time in the Deadwood Mystery series! All of our old friends are there to help Violet on her way to some crazy times. There was a big surprise (to me anyways) thrown in but I'm not one to spoil things so you will have to read the story and see for yourself what it is! Anywho if you love a great story if you love getting lost in the antics and lives of great characters then this book and series is definitely for you! Ann Charles, with her magical way of weaving a story, with many laugh out loud moments and seriously funny situations that had my stomach hurting from laughing so hard is definitely an author that you should be reading! I can recommend this book to friends, family and everyone without hesitation because it is amazing!

I know, you always hear "WOW, love this book!!" but the truth is, I do love these books! Ann Charles has a wicked sense of humor and it comes out in her books. From the first book in this series I have been hooked. These books are written with a sharp wit, snappy and quick dialogue and characters that are so well developed you wish they could be your best friends! In this seventh book in the series, we come face to face with one of Violet's worst nightmares.....and Violet is thrown once again back on top of the list of usual suspects in another murder! It's up to her to find the truth before she is arrested. Please Ann, NEVER stop this series!

Oh my word, I have read every book in this series and it just keeps getting better. While Ann Charles has laid out the groundwork for this series, I have found the last two books to have taken the series to another level. Instead of interesting situations with resolutions, this series has interwoven situations and the resolutions are simply another step to something far bigger in the future. I'm not sure I can describe it any better than that without specifics. As always, Ann's writing is fun. Her characters remain true and are continuously revealing more about themselves in each book. The Deadwood series keeps me coming back for more. I can't wait for the pre-order button on to order the next one!

Another great installment in the Deadwood series. The Good, the bad, and the ugly tribute was hilarious! I like that Violet seems to finally be growing as a person and not rushing into things without thinking. Oh don't worry there is still plenty of hijinx and attitude. In other words these books seem to be getting better. Definitely not the same stuff different day rut some book series get in. You will love how Natalie torments Rex!, it's way better than just beating the crap out of him. So if you have been following the series, clear your calendar and start reading. If you haven't been reading well clear your week and start at the beginning. The books really do build on each other.

Poor Cornelius is haunted day and night. He asks violet to get the ghost out of his head, especially because she wants Parker dead. With some strange help, coop sees something in a jail cell that spooks him. I don't like to give away the best parts of the book so get some pizza, a drink, and get comfy. You won't want to put it down. If you haven't read the other books in the series, you can still read this but you are going to want to read them all.

Ann Charles does it again! "A Wild Fright In Deadwood" is the 7th book in her Deadwood Series, a series that is full of mystery, ghosts, the paranormal, suspense, romance and laugh out loud fun! This book will have you sitting on the edge of your seat. Real Estate Agent Violet Parker is doing more than selling houses. There is something going on in Deadwood, South Dakota and Violet is at the center of the ghostly activities taking place not only in Deadwood, but also Lead. Pick up this book, better yet, pick up the whole series, you won't be able to put the books down until you've read them all. Violet Parker and her purple cowboy boots are going to walk right into your heart...
